

THE K.E.N.T. GROUP OF COMPANIES

K.E.N.T.

A SERVICE FOR ENGINEERS
THROUGHOUT THE WORLD
SINCE 1950

K.E.N.T. 1950 - 1975

Back in 1950 Ken Exeter started in business as K.E.N.T. Machinery & Engineering Co. with no assets other than integrity, inexhaustible energy and a proven engineering ability. Today, 25 years on, he watches over a small group of companies with the same characteristics, for K.E.N.T. Machinery & Engineering Co. Ltd., from Nov 1st, becomes the Holding Company of K.E.N.T. - VICTOR Ltd., Victor Engineering Works, Europa Trading Estate, Erith, Kent.

FAIROVER Engineering Ltd., Dartford Industrial Estate, Powdermill Lane, Dartford, Kent.
MACHINERY TRANSPLANT Ltd., 22 Hester Road, London, S.W.11.
K.E.N.T. Machine Tools Ltd., Albert Wharf, Hester Rd., Battersea Bridge, London SW11
C.H. JOYCE LTD., Monkton Street, London S.E.11

As Chairman and Joint Managing Director of K.E.N.T. Machinery & Engineering Co. Ltd., and as Managing Director of the K.E.N.T. - VICTOR, FAIROVER and MACHINERY TRANSPLANT subsidiaries, his inexhaustible energy supply is well tested! From the beginning the growth was as a family business and whether related by blood or not the family atmosphere still prevails. Mrs. Margo Exeter has been with the company from the very beginning and is a Life Director. Also still with the company from those very early days is Mr. Bill Hand, a fitter. In fact a large proportion of K.E.N.T. employees have been with the company for ten years or more.

Iain Exeter, Ken's son, joined the company in 1961 and is now Managing Director of K.E.N.T. Machine Tools Ltd., and C. H. JOYCE LTD. A school-friend, Barry Ellis, joined a few years later and is now Sales Director of K.E.N.T. Machine Tools Ltd.

K.E.N.T.'s growth in the sale of used machine tools and sheet metal machines has been 'fast and steady' from the most humble of beginnings to a truly international situation now. The present facilities at Battersea are most conveniently situated on the banks of the Thames between Albert and Battersea bridges. The main warehouse is 25,000 sq. ft. served by five O.E.T. cranes. Additionally the covered wharf of 10,000 sq. ft. has two O.E.T. cranes. Exports have featured substantially in K.E.N.T. sales and the K.E.N.T. - VICTOR facility for top quality rebuilding and reconditioning should give K.E.N.T. the opportunity to supply machines to the many rapidly developing export markets, often in direct competition to supplies of new machine tools. C.H. JOYCE LTD., have enjoyed a reputation since 1842 for the supply of new and used machine tools for toolrooms and general and precision engineers. Joe Lucas, one of the directors, has been with the company since 1928.

The story of K.E.N.T. - VICTOR is interesting as it involved the saving of the jobs of many skilled engineers who would have been lost to engineering. Early in 1974 SAMUEL HODGE & SONS LTD., very well known heavy engineers and machine tool manufacturers and rebuilders, closed down their VICTOR ENGINEERING WORKS at Rainham and K.E.N.T. were invited to tender for the purchase of the assets, along with several other machine tool companies. The thought of so many men, with so much skill and experience, being lost into the local mass production factories was more than the Exeters could bear. So a new factory was set up at Erith and the best of the Samuel Hodge machines installed there. Despite the traveling problems, Dartford Tunnel, etc., many of the men came to the new works. The speed with which the company has settled down to be turning out very large, precision work for major companies and high quality rebuilding of customers machines is due to the response of the men to the practical and enthusiastic lead given them by Ken Exeter during the past year, ably assisted by Bob Charnock, Tom Martin and Harold Rawlings, VICTOR men for many years and widely known throughout the engineering industry.

FAIROVER Engineering Ltd., as associated company, mainly owned by Ken Exeter, was started several years ago and concentrates on batch production sub contract work, with a speciality developed in the manufacture of coil winding machines and specialist grinding for the trade. The works Director is Keith Warner, a former college friend of Iain Exeter.

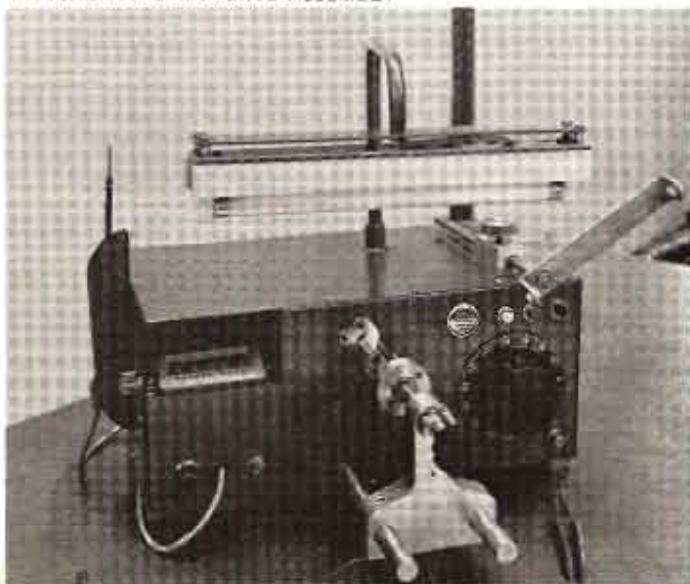

MACHINERY TRANSPLANT Ltd., is a specialist machine tool moving company which looks after the needs of K.E.N.T. customers whenever the machine is of a difficult type to handle. Not general hauliers but specialist movers, with specially designed lorries, Machinery Transplant Ltd., too, is finding an ever increasing demand for its services.

Sound growth, out of its own resources, makes K.E.N.T. what it is today and no doubt opportunities for further expansion will be looked for as time goes on.
